This Month in Preschool

March is for garden prep! We are excited to get our seeds started, both in the garden and in the greenhouse, and see them start to sprout!

As I was looking back through pictures from the beginning of the year, I hardly recognized some of the kids--they were SO little! The preschool years are years of tremendous growth and I hope you've noticed all the ways your little seeds are sprouting into the beautiful children that they are!

Why Play?

"Through observing children at play, we recognize what their worries, concerns, and fantasies are. We learn about their basic needs, their feelings of love and anger, their rivalries and fears of failure, their secret wishes and desires."
